REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

The act of the 1927 session of the Florida Legislature that created the Florida Real Estate Commission provides in its sections 9 that "The members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties." This is the usual wording in such cases and it allows it to be said that the members of commission serve without salary and makes it appear that their services are rendered without cost, that the remainder of the sentence, "shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses," usually isn't quoted, although it is surprising to find big expense bills can be a bad thing about these commissions that are represented as not costing anything. A bad thing about these commissions that are represented as not costing anything is that they have recourse to another section of the law that creates them, which section, in the case of the Florida Real Estate Commission, reads as follows: "The commission shall employ, and at its pleasure discharge, a secretary and such attorneys, inspectors, clerks and assistants as shall be deemed necessary, and shall outline their duties and fix their compensation."

A few weeks ago a representative of the Florida Real Estate Commission visited Canal Point, Pahokee and Belle Glade to investigate a complaint that the real estate brokers' license law was being violated. It had been reported that residents were acting as agents for land owners and were leasing lands and taking a commission or fee for the service. This is a violation of the law. There is no doubt the thing alleged is being done here, but the fact that the real estate brokers' law is being violated. But the representative of the Florida Real Estate Commission was not there to prosecute, it is sufficiently certain that if a prosecution had been attempted there would have been a conviction, and rather likely that the law would be changed and the real estate commission abolished.

But the Florida Real Estate Commission, under its section 10, employs a staff of inspectors to see that the law is enforced. These are two excuses for the Florida Real Estate Commission law. One is that the real estate men need close supervision to keep them from engaging in improper practices, and the other is that it is an effort to establish a caste and a monopoly in a necessary service. Both are poor excuses.

A POINT OF VIEW

C. H. Harper of Stewartville, Minn., owns a tract of 200 acres. In a letter received recently at this office he says: "I am thinking of letting my holdings in the Glades go for taxes so I don't feel enough interested in southern Florida now to take your paper for the present. A tax of $4 on each acre on land three or four miles from the lake is outrageous. If you know of any better thing to do than to let the district or the state take the land kindly let me know and I will make it right with you."

OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Often when he was looking on at an auction or where many things were displayed, Socrates would say, "How many things there are which I do not need!"

Being asked whether it was better to marry or not, Socrates replied, "Whichever you do, you will repent it."

A man once asked, "Diogenes what was the proper rule for supper, and he made answer, 'If you are a rich man, whatever you please; and if you are a poor man, whatever you can.'"

BITS OF WISDOM

On making cake when fresh milk, buttermilk, molasses, and sour milk are lacking, use a cup of apple sauce into which has been stirred a teaspoonful of baking soda. Besides being an excellent substitute, the sauce makes a delicious spice cake, and without eggs, too.

When spreading butter on sandwiches or toast do not try to soften the butter, but heat a silver knife by placing it in boiling water. The difficulty is overcome at once.

When a recipe calls for sugar flour, instead of moistening the flour with water or milk, stir the flour and sugar together in the dry state. Then no lumps will be seen.

To keep cheese moist, wrap it in a soft cloth wrung out of vinegar, and keep in an earthen jar. The cover slightly raised.

To clean lettuce is often a nuisance, because of its green leaves and its eggs in it. Turn on the cold water faucet slightly, put your thumb against it so the water will spray with force, and hold each leaf, with the broad end in the hand, under the water for a few seconds. Rinse, and it is ready for the table.

Nothing else sweetens vessels in which milk has been kept so well as a solution of baking soda and hot water, in the proportion of a level teaspoonful to a quart of water.

REMOVING FIRE DEBRIS

Workmen yesterday began removing the debris of the fire at Canal Point preliminary to the reconstruction of buildings on the old Bank of Canal Point building.

To frost a smooth, glossy appearance put the frosted cake in a warm oven for a few seconds, taking care not to let the frosting get so hot that it will run.

SOLD HIS HOLDINGS

G. A. Wheeler of West Palm Beach writes that he has sold most of his holdings in the upper Everglades, and he adds: "I hope to please them if I can sell my remaining lots on the ridge."

To give frosting a smooth, glossy appearance put the frosted cake in a warm oven for a few seconds, taking care not to let the frosting get so hot that it will run.

OKEELANTA

OKEELANTA, March 9.—Since the last contribution from Okeelanta to the paper little transpired of general interest. Weather conditions have been abnormal. The day after yesterday a heavy rain fell the North New River canal about six inches, spelling danger to the planted crops; however, the cool windy days since witnessed a steady frost, the recent weather frosts have touched this vicinity lightly; in fact, Jack Frost's last visit, (March 4 to 5) was scarcely felt.

John Anjima, who was a week end visitor with his parents and children lately, returned to his employment in Miami. Conditions in the Magic City have not materially improved, and the general destitution is not on the decrease, so he states.

The Rawleigh Medicine Company was represented by its agent Mr. Guiger of Canal Point the latter part of last week.

Ed Covell, who injured his foot while plowing a few weeks ago, is now able to get around again.

Of few cars venturing to the "end of the trail," Okeelanta, may be mentioned a peddler of oranges, one selling sweet potatoes, the Thornton boys, Ed and Melvin Carter, the sweet buyer, the Hardy family and a few more whose names we failed to get.

V. W. Roth, while working in his yard last Saturday, was suddenly overcome by heart trouble. He fortunately reached his cabin before he died.

Friends and neighbors saw to his care and comfort.

Since the lake shore towns seem to be moving uncomfortably near to the north pole, it is rumored that Mr. Reidel, our pioneer friend, will spend the winter season hereafter on his land several miles south of Okeelanta on the North New River canal.

Chas. Cowgill is at present visiting friends in Miami.

J. C. Carruthers from Pahokee paid a town a hurried visit last Monday. He was surprised at seeing so little evidence of the recent frosts in this vicinity.

The Clarence Cooper family departed for their former home at Akron, Ohio, the forepart of this week.

Members of Moore Haven Woman's Club met at Lakoport recently, gathering at the home of Mrs. D. C. Gorman with Mrs. L. Hooker as hostess.

Winds have stirred up the lake so much that on the east side the water is muddy and fishing is no good.

change from evening service to morning.

Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. A. Duane Wednesday afternoon. The ladies are preparing an amusing entertainment entitled "The Family Album," which will be presented on March 17 at the Legion hall. The pictures will be living models. How many can you recognize? Home made candy and punch will be on sale.
